

SOCIAL MEDIA POLICY

We will strive to have open and honest dialogues with our readers.

We will not post or comment on company financials, sensitive personal information, religion, politics unrelated to our business, or contractual agreements with customers and suppliers.

We will provide links to relevant material available on other blogs and web sites. We will disclose any sources fully through credits, links and trackbacks unless the source has requested anonymity.

Comments will be reviewed in a timely manner. We will remove posts and comments that are determined to be spam, inappropriate, defamatory, use profanity, or are otherwise unrelated to our business.

All comments that are related to our business, and do not violate our policy, will be kept and responded to as needed.

We will correct inaccurate or misleading postings in a timely manner. We will not delete posts unless they violate our policy.